Sop what we are — when we no long - er care.

Alt what we are — when we no long - er care.

Män what we are — when we no long - er care.

60

S Those eyes that stare — at me hard and re-lent — less seem to lay bare — to me

63

S all our fu-ture, hard-ship and root - less-ness, pain in the fa - ces that hun-ger's made sharp.

67

S Why's the moon-light cast-ing so cold and com-fort - less a glow — on that new grave? Whose

73

S is it? No, don't tell me, I al-read-y know. You need-n't tell me, I al-read-y know.
